

RAHUL GANGAL

Partner

Roland Berger

Rahul Gangal advises clients from a range of industries, including Aerospace, Defense, Engineering Products, Automotive, Homeland Security and Infrastructure. His consulting practice focuses on business growth and strategy, operations, market entry, offsets and turnaround strategy. He specializes in counter-trade measures such as offsets. He also advises the Public Sector on policy formation and implementation. Prior to joining Roland Berger, Rahul worked for the Tata Group as well as leading investment banking and private equity businesses in the aerospace, defense and security sectors. Rahul has substantial experience working with governments on matters of policy especially in the domain of Aerospace and Defense.

He studied Economics at the University of Delhi, and holds an MBA from the Indian Institute of Foreign Trade in New Delhi.